All sales are final for online E-courses. No refunds are issued for E-courses once a sale is completed. The information in our E-courses are for educational purposes only and are not intended to provide legal advice or substitute for legal advice. We make no guarantees or warranties that the information in our E-courses is appropriate for you or will result in improvement of your career, business or personal life. The information in our E-courses are by no means complete or exhaustive to the scope of the subject matter and therefore do not apply to all conditions, situations or opportunities. Any references to or mention of any particular legal or business issues are intended for informational purposes only and not an attempt to suggest that the opinion stated in the e-course is definitive on the subject and is subject to change. Any mention of strategy or methodology in any aspect of business does not indicate a guarantee of success and is subject to change.

Before you apply or recommend any information in the E-courses, we suggest that you seek legal advice if you have a specific legal issue. By purchasing any E-course and applying the knowledge base in it, you are assuming the risk that the information may not be appropriate for you or your business, and you agree to waive any liability as such for Katie Lipp and law practice queen, or any affiliates of the same.

By purchasing an E-course, Katie Lipp and law practice queen grant you a nonexclusive, non-transferable, revocable license to access and use our copyrighted E-course and any associated materials solely for your own personal and non-commercial, non-duplicatable use. Our E-courses are protected under United States and foreign copyrights. The copying, redistribution, use or publication by you of any of the content within our E-courses is strictly prohibited. Your purchase of our E-course does not grant you any ownership rights to our E-course. Any breach in the terms of this agreement may result in termination of your access to the E-course materials.

We respect the intellectual property rights of others and we request that you do the same. Except for any third-party content used as part of the law practice queen website, the data and materials on the law practice queen site, including without limitation text, software, graphics, logos, photos, music, videos, and all other audible, visual or downloadable materials, as well as the selection, organization, coordination, compilation and overall look and feel of the law practice queen Site (collectively, “LPQ Content”) are the intellectual property of LPQ and Katie Lipp. LPQ Content is protected by copyright, trademark and other intellectual property laws and all ownership rights remain with us. We reserve all rights in and to LPQ Content. LPQ Content may not be distributed, downloaded, modified, reused, copied, reproduced, transferred, displayed, reposted, transmitted, disseminated, sold, published, broadcast or circulated or otherwise used without the express written permission of LPQ. LPQ reserves the right to take any legal or technical remedies to prevent the violation of the CBDTA Terms and to protect the LPQ Services, Users and the rights and property of LPQ and its affiliates. If you violate these Terms, your permission to use the LPQ Services automatically terminates and you must immediately destroy any copies you have made of the LPQ Content. Any actions on your behalf to contrary could result in litigation.

If you wish to request permission to use any LPQ Content in a manner otherwise prohibited under these Terms, please contact the administrator (information provided below).

Our E-course may contain references or links to materials from third-parties. Reference to any third-party products, services, processes or other information, by trade name, trademark, manufacturer, supplier or otherwise does not constitute or imply endorsement, sponsorship or recommendation thereof, or any affiliation with us. We are not responsible for examining or evaluating the content or accuracy and we do not warrant and will not have any liability or responsibility for any third-party materials or websites, or for any other materials, products, or services of third-parties. We are not liable for any harm or damages related to the purchase or use of goods, services, resources, content, or any other transactions made in connection with any third-party websites. Complaints, claims, concerns, or questions regarding third-party products should be directed to the third-party.

Our E-courses are intended solely for Users who are at least age 18 years of age or older. Any use of or access to our E-courses by anyone under such, is unauthorized, unlicensed and in violation of these Terms of Use. By purchasing an E-course, you represent and warrant that you are 18 years or older and that you agree to and to abide by all of the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Katie Lipp and LPQ have the sole right and discretion to determine whether to sell our E-course to any individual and may reject a purchase by any individual with or without explanation.

We will respond quickly to claims of copyright infringement as found in our E-course, according to the terms of the Digital Millennium Copyright Act of 1998 (DMCA) as found under United States law (17 USC. § 512). If you believe any copyrights are infringed by our E-course, please provide us with a written notice via mail, fax, or email that contains the following information:
